

国際経営学修士（専門職）
ディプロマ・ポリシー（学位授与方針）

The mission of the university is to develop highly motivated business leaders who will be a source of creation and innovation.

Students are expected to acquire the required credits in a curriculum designed to achieve this mission, and as a result, to reach a state where they can play an active role as business leaders who create and innovate societies.

In addition, we expect students to gain a deep understanding of Japan through a year of intensive study at the Tokyo campus in English, and to acquire the qualities of business leaders who can be active in Asia and around the world.

Specifically, students gain global perspectives and a sense of mission, as well as the ability to quickly perceive the true nature of a given issue, think by themselves about the direction of change required, and communicate this effectively to drive people into action, even in rapidly changing and unprecedented environments. These are broad business skills that enable students to envision dreams and take on challenges even in entirely new fields.

The degree of Master of Business Administration is conferred to students who have achieved these goals.
